

HANCOCK

K. P. ANNUAL MASQUERADE
WILL BE HELD FEBRUARY 7

One of the biggest and most popular of the social events of the year, and one which has been looked forward to with the greatest interest ever since their inauguration three years ago, is the annual masquerade ball of the Hancock lodge No. 198, Knights of Pythias. These have become a fixed annual event and are held in Germania hall during the early part of February. Although the time is still some distance off, the members of the lodge have already begun to discuss the matter and the hall has already been spoken for on the evening of February 7, when the big event will take place.

The appointing of committees, etc., to have charge of the arrangements, will probably not take place until after the annual election of the officers of the lodge in December, after which work will be started in earnest and an effort made to have the coming masquerade the best and most spectacular that has yet been given under the auspices of the local Knights of Pythias. Prizes will, as usual, be offered for the best comic and fancy costumes and these will encourage maskers to exert themselves to devise something unique and unusual. There will be the best of music provided and the usual arrangements will be made to assure the affair being a grand success.

IS A MUSICAL TREAT.

Great Enthusiasm Over Splendid Concerts by Italian Band.

No musical organization that has ever visited this city has received so much praise and appreciative mention as the D'Urbano Italian band now playing matinee and evening concerts at the Korredge theater. The band is led by competent musical critics to be the very best of its kind that has ever visited the copper country, and each evening sees a large attendance. The programs are very varied and include selection from the best operatic works of the leading Italian composers, besides others from the compositions of French and German musicians. Signor Luigi D'Urbano, the talented director of the band, is only 25 years of age, but is already enjoying a world wide distinction as a composer and musician. He first conducted a band, numbering seventy-five instruments, when only 19 years old, and while filling this position he was honored by the presentation of a medal from the king of Italy. The present band first played at Luna Park, Coney Island, a couple of years ago, and since then he has appeared at San Francisco, Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, and spent the past summer in Chicago. Before coming to copperdom the band played for eight nights in Duluth, and opened a new theater at Superior with a week's engagement. The band will be here for two days longer after tonight, with matinee and evening concerts.

Gentlemen—I have suffered from burning, itching eczema for 6 years, which tortured me so that I could not endure any underclothing on. JAMES A. WOOD, THE MAN WHO MADE SEATTLE FAMOUS.

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 8.—The Alaska-Yukon-Pacific exposition has made Seattle more famous than anything else in its previous history. The exposition has been a great success under the clever management of its officials but the real lasting results to Seattle and the northwest have not come through the success of the fair but through the publicity obtained thereby. And "Jim" Wood, the man who let the world know about the exposition, has justly earned the title of "The Man Who Made Seattle Famous."

It is conceded by experts who have made the matter of expositions their life work that the A. Y. P. exposition, which is about to come to a close, has been as well and as widely advertised as any great fair ever held in this country or Europe. The success of an exposition is to a great extent judged by its attendance. According to present estimates about four million people will have attended the A. Y. P. up to the time of closing, October 16. The man largely responsible for this great attendance is James A. Wood, who has filled the position of director of the exposition, Mr. Wood is a Seattle newspaper man, who for years prior to his present work occupied positions of responsibility with leading newspapers in Seattle and other cities of the northwest. When he took over the publicity work of the exposition seven months prior to the opening, June 1, the complaint was widespread that the fair had not been well advertised. Hundreds of prominent Seattle people returned from trips throughout the United States with the complaint that they had heard nothing of the coming exposition during their travels. They had made inquiry everywhere, had visited railroad offices and other public places of information seeking literature about the fair but no information was to be obtained, no literature to be had. The exposition people at home admitted the truth of the charge.

Within one week after Mr. Wood succeeded to the position of director of exploitation the wheels of publicity were moving. Mr. Wood was not experienced in the matter of bringing to the attention of the world a new exposition. But he adopted some common sense methods, induced every resident of Seattle to become a publicity agent for the exposition, and immediately every letter, every pamphlet, which went out of Seattle bore the A. Y. P. seal, and tucked inside the letters was interesting literature concerning the coming fair. Then he introduced throughout the northwest the slogan, "What Helps Seattle, Helps the Northwest," commercial clubs and other public bodies, as well as individual citizens took up the cry; all became boosters and in a short time hundreds of thousands of advertising pamphlets were going into every nook and corner of the United States as well as Canada, Europe and the Orient.

Washington is a cosmopolitan state; there are people within its borders from every state in the union. Home state societies were organized and each society made it a point to see that the people from their particular state learned all about the exposition. All were asked to come and to bring their friends.

Railroads, magazines and newspapers of the country came to the assistance of Mr. Wood inspired by the work he was doing, and this alone gave the exposition as much advertising as any previous exposition had received. Returns soon showed that Wood's campaign had been effective. Eastern passenger agents wrote and wired that they had all the people they could possibly care for; they were no longer concerned about the number of west-bound passengers; what they needed was equipment to haul them. Then came June 1, opening day, with close to one hundred thousand people in attendance. Since that time the average attendance has been close to 30,000.

A MERCENARY MAN.

Speaker Canham, at a Washington banquet, had been criticizing a political opponent.

"His advocacy of those measures is only half-hearted, anyway," the speaker said. "It is as half-hearted as old Uncle Eli Baxters' affection for his wife."

"Uncle Eli kept a crab and oyster emporium in the village of Doorn. He was rich, according to Doorn standards, and the village gossip said that his wife, a young and pretty woman, had married him for his money."

"A friend, dropping in for a cold boiled crab one morning, noticed that Uncle Eli looked woe-begone."

"What's the matter, uncle?" he asked. "Rheumatism again?"

"Wasn't rheumatism," said Uncle Eli, shortly. "It's my wife. She's been kissed young Lawyer Shyster, who takes his meals here with me."

"The visitor dropped in amazement at the crab claw he had been picking."

"Impossible!" he cried. "Impossible, nothing," said Uncle Eli glumly. "I seen her do it."

"The voice of the crab eater quivered with awe and interest."

"Then, what are you going to do about it, Uncle Eli?" he asked.

"Do?" said the old man, sourly. "What can I do? If I let the cat out of the bag that I've lost confidence in Lawyer Shyster, he's liable to change his eatin' house!"—Washington Star.

TORCH LAKE NEWS

HUBBELL LIGHTING SYSTEM
WILL BE IMPROVED SOON

Tungsten Lights Will Probably be Installed in Hubbell Upon the Contract Basis—Bandstand! Sidewalk Will be Replaced by New Cement Walks Soon.

Supt. A. W. Garry, in charge of the Lake Linden plant for the Houghton County Electric light company, has presented the village officials of Hubbell with five year contracts, which he had prepared to govern the cost of electric lights. There are six arcs installed in the village at the present time, each of which costs the village $90 per year. With the five year contract as presented by Mr. Garry the village could save $7 per lamp each year which would go quite a way toward meeting the cost of another lamp in the town. Instead of paying $540 per year, the village would only have to pay $450.

Mr. Garry also approached the council with regard to the series Tungsten lamps, such as those in use in all the other towns of the copper country. They are adapted for use wherever the villages do not care to install costly arcs. A trial lamp has been installed in Lake Linden is giving excellent satisfaction.

When asked by one of the councilmen if the Tungstens could not be used on the regular electric line, Mr. Garry said it would be impossible, but should the village order a number of them, they would arrange for a system. One of the councilmen stated yesterday that the village should have additional light, but in all probability in the near future this matter would be taken up. However the contracts have been tabled.

One advantage of the Tungsten light over the present arc lamp is that the Tungstens do not require any attention whatever. There would be no trimming of lamps and the operator in the station could readily ascertain whether or not the lamps were doing efficient work and adjust the current accordingly.

Decide to Build Walk. It was announced this morning that the village officers have decided to replace the cement sidewalk in front of the First National bank, to occupy the place of the "band stand," by which it was known. The source of the news regarding the village building the walk can be relied upon. The bank people will have the walk built and they have been requested to turn their bill into the village for the same.

Donald M. Scott of Laurium, who has done the engineering work in the village, estimates the cost of the new sewer system at $7,000. Lyle Beaman of Houghton is still expected down every day to remedy the leak in the large reservoir which supplies the people of the village with water for their homes.

GOOD SHOWS COMING.

Manager Thomas O'Rourke of the Lake Linden theater announced yesterday that he has a number of good bookings for the playhouse for this season, also a number of good shows billed for appearance here up to and including a year from now. The first of the plays to be seen here will be "Girls From U. S. A." This play will be seen here one week from Sunday night and it is considered to be a very attractive production.

Mason & Mason's German comedy, "Rudolph and Adolph" will be seen here on the evening of November seventh.

"Don't Tell My Wife" is the attraction that will be here on November 15.

Lyman Howe's moving pictures, declared to be the best on the road, will again be seen here on November 17. Mr. Howe has always shown to large and appreciative audiences in Lake Linden in the past and with a whole new line of pictures this fall, the show should be well attended.

For December there are several good plays coming to Lake Linden, among them being "David Copperfield" on the night of the 5th; Frank Long commences a week's engagement here on the night following that show and Frank and his company needs no introduction to the local public.

On the 19th "California Girls" a

PRETTY AUTUMN PARTY.
Number of Young Ladies of Hubbell Entertained in Opal's Hall.

Thursday evening the new dance hall in Opal's structure at Hubbell was the scene of a pretty autumn dancing party. The entertainment was given by a number of the young ladies of the village and the guests numbered about 75 of their friends. The hall was prettily decorated for the occasion, autumn leaves and potted ferns being used in profusion. Harl's orchestra played the dance music and those present report one of the most delightful times they had for months.

TORCH LAKE BREVITIES.

Miss Amy Keno of Hubbell expects to leave tomorrow morning for Chicago, where she will enter Columbus hospital for nurses. Miss Keno will enter for the full period of three years, although her experience in the local hospital for a year will be of material benefit to her in the Chicago institution.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lamotte of Hubbell report the arrival of a boy at their home yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Tethewey of Hubbell have returned from a three weeks' visit at Toledo, O., also in Toronto, Canada. In the Canadian city they visited Mr. Tethewey's brother, John, whom they had not seen for number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. William Coombe of Calumet were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Cray of Hubbell one evening this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Stone of Milwaukee were Lake Linden-Hubbell visitors for a few hours yesterday.

IDENTIFYING HERSELF.

"I'm very sorry to trouble you, madam," said the bank teller politely, "but you'll have to be identified." He pushed the check across the marble slab toward her as he spoke.

"Identified?" repeated the lady; "what does that mean? Isn't the check good?"

The bank man did not smile, for this was the thirty-seventh lady who had asked this question that day.

"I have no doubt it is," he said, "but I don't know you. Do you know anybody in the bank?"

"Why, I'm Mrs. Weatherley!" exclaimed the lady. "Didn't you see my name on the check? See—here it is." The teller shook his head wearily.

"You must be identified," he insisted.

A full case of Pape's Diapasin costs only 50 cents and will thoroughly cure your out-of-order stomach, and leave sufficient about the house in case some one else in the family may suffer from stomach trouble or indigestion.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula plainly printed on these Decept cases, then you will understand why Dyspeptic trouble of all

Diapasin is harmless and tastes like candy, though each dose contains power sufficient to digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many Diapasin cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be cranky about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever try a little for Indigestion or Gastritis or any other Stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and forever rid yourself of Stomach Troubles and Indigestion.

That check," she said with dignity, "was given me by my husband. There's his name on it. Do you know him?"

"I do," said the teller, "but I don't know you."

"Then," said the lady, "I'll show you who I am. My husband is a tall man with reddish hair. His face is smooth shaven. He has a mole on one cheek and looks something like a gorilla, some people say, but I don't think so. When he talks he twists his mouth to one side, and one of his front teeth is missing. He wears a No. 15 collar, a No. 6 shoe, and won't keep his coat buttoned. He's the hardest man to get money out of you ever saw—it took me three days to get this check." The banker waved his hand.

"I guess it's all right," he said; "put your name right there—no, on the back, not the face!"—Galveston News.
